

Jesus offers the gift of eternal life to all who believe

By Dan Nixon
Pastor, First United Methodist Church of Butler

There is a group of New Testament words which have the idea of ransom and redemption; of deliverance purchased at a price. These words are translated into the word "redeem". In Luke, the two on the road to Emmaus spoke of Jesus as the "one who was going to redeem Israel." This word, translated as "redeem", means "to be released upon paying a ransom." In this context, the Jews thought the Messiah would deliver Israel from the Romans as a mighty conqueror. However, in Classical Greek, this word has the basic meaning of "the price of release" as if buying a person out of slavery. If an Israelite, in his poverty, sold himself to a wealthy sojourner, a wealthier relative could buy him out of that slavery. That price was considered a ransom. (Leviticus 25:51) Jesus redeemed Israel, and the whole world, out of sin. He did so by shedding his blood because "without the shedding of blood there can be no forgiveness." (Hebrews 9:22) Truly we are "redeemed by the blood of the Lamb".

In Galatians 3, Paul stated that "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law." Here, the Apostle presents the other side of redemption. Not only has the price of the ransom been paid, we have been set free from its curse as well. When Christ died he not only paid the penalty for sin, he had us released from any further obligations to the Law of Moses. Christ set us free from the curse of the law. The curse of the law is sin and death. (Romans 6:1-23) "Sin is transgression of the law." (I John 3:4) Jesus paid the penalty for sin with his blood. Jesus set us free from sin by his resurrection.

Ephesians 5:16 speaks of "redeeming the time." in the Greek, this word means to "buy up for oneself" or "buy up for the opportunity." This word instructs us to make the most of every opportunity for the sake of Christ. Jesus made the most of the opportunity of the cross. In doing so, he made a bargain for himself. In this one accomplishment, Jesus obtained the salvation of millions, was given all power and authority in heaven and on earth, and is seated at the right hand of God in heaven. Jesus turned the opportunity of the cross to its best advantage and received the best results. We are to do the same with the time God has given us. We are to use time to the advantage of God so that He will receive the best results.

We have been set free from the wages of sin and are now reaping the benefits of God's love and grace. But always remember the price that Christ paid was the cruelest death ever devised; death on an old rugged cross. Let us all keep this in mind in this new year of fresh opportunities. Let us take advantage of the freedom Christ provided by doing his good and perfect will.
