

Bagging for bucks

Choctaw Sun photo by Dee Ann Campbell

BUTLER — The JROTC unit from Choctaw County High School participated in a Bag-a-thon at Piggly Wiggly in Butler last Saturday. The event not only gave the cadets the opportunity to raise funds for their unit, but also allowed them to make their unit more visible within the community. A total of 124 cadets are part of the CCHS JROTC.

Spanish students get awards

BUTLER — Students enrolled in Spanish classes at Patrician Academy attended the Foreign Language Fair at Jackson State University in Jackson, MS on March 29, 2007. The students sang "Unchained Melody" in Spanish and received an excellent rating. Attending were: Meagan Busby, Amber Dobbins, Robert Anderson, Mikell Bonner, Charles Capps (teacher), Codi Stafford, Ben McBride, Kyle Scott, Staci Vice, Nick Harrell, Will McBride, Kayln Hall, Melissa Snow, Jenny Carney, and Ciara Smith. Pictured with Mr. Capps are Kyle Scott ("good" rating in written proficiency Spanish I), Staci Vice ("excellent" rating in translation, Spanish II), Jenny Carney ("good" rating in written proficiency, Spanish II), and Ciara Smith ("excellent" rating in translation, Spanish II).

After-school artists at SCES

GILBERTOWN — Southern Choctaw Elementary School has been implementing art with history during their after school program. The school received a Black Belt Initiative Art Grant that has made this possible. The students explored Alabama History through various types of art media. Ms. Brandi Clark (not shown) placed special concentration on muralistic art, and the creation of a mural depicting historical and noteworthy facts about Alabama. The 3rd and 4th grade students pictured here have created their own Alabama Great Seal. Pictured with students Amber Grayson, Luther Causey, Traye McDonald, and Jeremy Gallette is Mrs. Sandra Alexander who has worked closely with the after-school students to assure their success. This process has allowed the students to better express themselves while creating a work of art that will entertain and inform for years to come. The mural should be complete by the end of the school year. Principal Jacqui James and the staff encourage the public to come by and enjoy the students' work of art.
