

The Choctaw Sun

2007

All-County Team

Baseball

Jacob Sullivan
SCA

The only sophomore on either squad, he was the main reason for the Rebels resurgence with his powerful bat and strong arm either behind the plate or on the mound where he was SCA's ace.

Clay Goodwin
Patrician

A speedy outfielder with great defensive skills, the senior showed his toughness after having a tooth knocked out during a bloody encounter with the fence chasing a fly. He was back in the dugout before the game ended.

Trevor Cameron
CCHS

Power hitter to the max. This 250-pound muscle-man slugged seven homers while playing a near flawless catcher, and figures to be the next Tiger headed for college ball.

Barry Meeks
Patrician

Saints leading home run hitter(9) was also the team's top pitcher until an arm injury forced the talented junior to lose his spot in the rotation, but not the batting order.

Lance Gibson
Patrician

Most complete player in the county, Gibson leads the Saints on the mound and at shortstop, where he is one of the top players in all of the AISA. If the Saints win state, Gibson will be the MVP.

Arsenio Dubose
CCHS

Tigers most versatile player. Still a junior, Dubose has shown he can dominate at shortstop or pitcher. He is also one of the Tigers top batters and should blossom into a star next season.

Jaleesa McNealy
CCHS

This senior hurlerpicked up all six of the Tigers wins this season. Basically, when Jaleesa took to the hill the Tigers had a chance to win.

Arielle Campbell
SCA

By far the Rebels most effective hitter with a gaudy .477 average, Campbell has improved immensely at shortstop and is one of the major reasons the Rebels will be a force in the upcoming state tourney.

Tristan Mosley
SCA

The Rebels ace, this senior relies on a blazing fastball to get batters out and a gritty toughness that got her through a 15-plus start season in which she pitched against mostly bigger schools.

Allie Roach
Patrician

A coach's dream, this junior can catch or play the infield with equal effectiveness. She also bats in the top of the order where she is one tough out, leading the team with only three K's in over 100 at-bats.

Kylie Lewis
Patrician

Senior leads team in seven offensive categories thanks to blazing speed out of the left-handed batter's box. Lewis also sparkles on the mound with a 10-5 mark and 79 K's in 108 innings.
