

Hot to Trot at the CCSC Horse Show

Marcus Gates
The Choctaw Sun

It was a hot, but pretty day for a Horse Show at the Choctaw County Saddle Club in Lisman this past Saturday. There were 31 classes to enter in and ribbons were given out in all classes, with feed given out in most classes. Participants and their horses were from both Alabama and Mississippi and are members of the Choctaw County Saddle Club. The Club puts on a horse show once a month to benefit the club and keep members active. The shows are open to the public for a fee and are a great place to take the whole family for some fun!

Remember to read The Choctaw Sun for all the coverage!

Rebels get Rings

Senior Kate Dahlberg of the AISA Class A State Champion South Choctaw Lady Rebels basketball team gazes at her championship ring received on Wednesday. During a ceremony at the school, the Rebels were honored by the SCA coaches, faculty and students for their impressive 23-6 season that ended with a convincing win over Warrior Academy in the state final in Montgomery.
